

Membership Benefits At A Glance

Discounted fees for:

- EGSA Technician Certification Program
- Rowley Power Schools offering Continuing Education Units (CEUs)
- EGSA Conferences
- Powerline magazine advertising
- On-Site Power Generation: A Comprehensive Guide to On-Site Power (5th edition)

Free job postings in our Job Bank, located on our Website and in our bi-monthly publication Powerline.

Use of the EGSA logo on your company advertisements, website, stationery, etc.

Priority booking of your booth in the EGSA Pavilion at POWER-GEN International.

Listing in EGSA's Annual Buying Guide (distributed to Diesel Progress recipients, currently over 31,000 readers!)

Web links—Your company information will appear on EGSA's website within the month that you join, and we will link to your website if it is listed on your membership application.

Networking opportunities—make contacts with the "Who's Who" of the On-Site Power industry at EGSA events, including conferences, trade shows and receptions, as well as online in EGSA's groups on LinkedIn.

EGSA Bucks Program—EGSA's member-referral program: If a new member lists your name as a sponsor on their membership application, you will receive $100 in "EGSA Bucks" to apply towards any EGSA product including: Registrations, reference books, membership renewal dues, etc.

Grants for Military Veterans:

- Raymond G. Russell Education Grant supports our Nation's armed services veterans by providing tuition and travel costs to attend one of the EGSA George Rowley Schools of On-Site Power Generation.
- Fairbanks Morse Education Grant supports our Nation's armed services veterans by providing a full ride on costs associated with the EGSA Certified Technician test (Apprentice or Journeyman level).