Discounted fees for:

- EGSA Technician Certification Program
- Rowley Power Schools offering Continuing Education Units (CEUs)
- EGSA Conferences
- Powerline magazine advertising
- On-Site Power Generation: A Comprehensive Guide to On-Site Power (5th edition)

Free job postings in our Job Bank, located on our Website and in our publication Powerline.

Use of the EGSA logo on your company advertisements, website, stationery, etc.

Priority booking of your booth in the EGSA Pavilion at POWER-GEN International.

Free Listing in EGSA's Online Member Directory (customers can find you by name, location or products/services). Your company information will appear on EGSA's website within the month that you join, and we will link to your website if it is listed on your membership application.

Free Listing in the printed EGSA's Annual Buying Guide and Member Directory — at the end of each year, the member listings are printed and distributed to the entire Diesel Progress subscriber list (over 31,000 industry leaders). The Buying Guide is also distributed at EGSA Conferences and at POWER-GEN International.

Networking opportunities—make contacts with the "Who's Who" of the On-Site Power industry at EGSA events, including conferences, trade shows and receptions, as well as online in EGSA's groups on Linkedin.

EGSA Bucks Program—EGSA's member-referral program: If a new member lists your name as a sponsor on their membership application, you will receive $100 in "EGSA Bucks" to apply towards any EGSA product including: Registrations, reference books, membership renewal dues, etc.

Grant for Military Veterans:

 Fairbanks Morse Education Grant supports our Nation's armed services veterans by providing a full ride on costs associated with the George Rowley Schools of On-Site Power Generation and/or the EGSA Certified Technician test (Apprentice or Journeyman level).

Application for Membership

Under the leadership of its Board of Directors and operating through its various committees and staff, EGSA strives to educate, provide networking opportunities and share relevant knowledge and trends with industry professionals including manufacturers, distributor/dealers, engineers, manufacturer representatives, contractor/integrators and others serving On-Site Power consumers.
